

Ellenville Man Seriously Hurt in Auto Accident

Left C. Fred Sustanus Fractured Skull, Broken Jaw and Other Injuries—Two Companions, Unable to Tell How Accident Happened, Remained in Jail.

Left C. Fred of Ellenville is in Kingston City Hospital seriously injured as the result of an automobile accident on Mossy Brook, above High Falls, Friday evening about 8 o'clock. His two companions, William Stewart of Stone Ridge and Roy Ellen of High Falls, are detained in the county jail pending an investigation as to how Fred was injured. The case apparently is one of two men either or some other stimulant. At the hospital this morning Fred's condition was reported as very poor. His injuries are considered serious. Following his removal to the hospital it was found he was suffering from a fracture of the skull, broken jaw, badly injured face, a deep cut on one leg and numerous other bruises. It is supposed that he sustained the injuries when he was thrown from the car as it left the road and landed under it in some manner so that the wheels of the car passed over his head or struck him in a heavy blow. The two men in custody are not able to give any definite information as to what happened and their stories differ as to what had taken place prior to the accident.

Noticed Car in Field.

The three men were riding in the car on the Mossy Brook road between High Falls and Lake Mohawk. The car was not clearly seen, but Stewart says Fred drove. Some distance beyond High Falls the car left the road and ran into a field. Its location was noticed by residents who reported the accident and arrested V. Ellsworth, who happened to be at High Falls, learned of the accident. Mr. Ellsworth was formerly a deputy sheriff. He immediately communicated with Sheriff Lee who authorized Mr. Ellsworth to make an investigation and report the services of the sheriff were used.

Found Unconscious in Spring.

Arriving at the scene of the accident Mr. Ellsworth found the car had been driven over the bank and proceeded a quarter or half a mile on toward Mohawk. Stewart and Ellen were both in the car unconscious except for a cut over Stewart's eye. Mr. Ellsworth questioned the two men, who apparently had been partaking of some liquid refreshments. While the two were being questioned someone returned to the scene where the car had first left the road and there discovered a badly injured man, unconscious and apparently badly injured. Blood was flowing from wounds about his head and Mr. Ellsworth immediately notified the sheriff's office and Under Sheriff William S. Doyle and Deputy Constable Constable drove to the scene of the accident.

Unable to Give Information.

Fred was removed to the hospital for treatment and the two men were questioned. The two men were unable to give any information as to how their companion on the trip had been injured. Both were brought to court house and again questioned. Nothing, however, was learned as to how the man came to be seriously injured or why he had been left lying in the field after the accident.

Stopped Somewhere for Cider.

On being questioned at the court house, Stewart said the party had started up the mountain to Mohawk and on the way they had stopped and had some cider. Fred drove the car and Stewart claimed that he had been in the rear seat with a dog. After the stop for cider he lost track of the party and could give no information as to how Fred was injured. Stewart persisted in stating that he had not stopped any place on the trip and that they had not had any cider. Stewart claimed. When they reached Mossy Brook, the car went off the road, but he would not say who was driving at the time and he gave no information as to how Mr. Fred was injured.

It is Fred recovers consciousness and is able to make a statement, an effort will be made to determine what knowledge he has of the accident. His condition, however, is serious.

Another Medal For Lindbergh

Congress of Nicaragua Presents Flyer With Diploma of Valor and Medal of "Merit and Honor"—Receives Beautiful Cameo.

Managua, Nic., Jan. 7 (P).—A chain of volcanoes today pointed the way to new conquests for the knight of the air. Before Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, lay 120 miles of flying to San Jose, Costa Rica.

Leaving Managua, the trail of the Lone Eagle ran the length of Lake Nicaragua, largest body of fresh water between Lake Michigan and Lake Titicaca on the Bolivian-Peru boundary. From the lake a rugged range of volcanoes led to the central plain on which San Jose is situated.

The congress of Nicaragua presented the flyer with a diploma of valor and a medal of "merit and honor." Termed a "true knight of the air" by General Estrada, chief of staff, Lindbergh was told he had honored Nicaragua and the chamber by his presence.

President Adolfo Diaz handed Lindbergh the diploma and pinned the medal on his chest. Lindbergh also received a present which he said he did not know how to use. A beautiful cane of native wood was presented to the flyer by the general reception committee.

The airman had an opportunity to watch natives at work picking coffee when he went to the El Tapaté plantation of Rafael Carbrera, former minister of finance.

Nicaraguan motorists were disappointed. During luncheon at the plantation, the national orchestra played for dancing but Lindbergh preferred to chat with members of the party. He even avoided the lunch so far as partaking of the delicacies was concerned.

Issues Call for Peace Conference

Governor Donahay Declares Coal Strike Has Affected Detrimently the Business Structure of Communities Involved.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 7 (P).—A call for a "peace conference" between Ohio coal operators and striking miners, to be held at Columbus January 16, has been issued by Governor Donahay in a letter addressed to Lee Hall, president of District No. Six, United Mine Workers, and S. H. Robbins, Cleveland, president of the Ohio Coal Operators' Association.

The governor's letter declared the strike "has affected detrimentally the entire business structure of the communities involved," and called attention to reports of official observers that children of the striking miners lack food and clothing and in some instances are "actually at the point of starvation."

"When the health and lives of children are involved," the governor wrote, "a labor dispute ceases to be merely the concern of employers and employees, but becomes a problem demanding the attention of society. Little children must not be subjected to hunger and cold because of disagreements of their elders."

Alleged "Dry" Violators Held

There were hearings in three adjourned cases of defendants before United States Commissioner Arthur C. Connelly at his office in the Cordts building, Wall street, this morning, each defendant being charged with possession of beverages in violation of the Volstead law.

Two defendants were David Whitaker, employed at the Cunio Hotel, Broadway, and James Casey, North Front street, where seizures were made by federal men on December 15. The former was represented by John M. Cashin of New York and Kingston, the latter by Judge Augustus Shuffield. The third defendant was Charles V. Hasselmann of Catskill, arrested December 17, who was represented by John M. Cashin. After the hearing in each case the defendants were held to await action of federal grand jury in New York, and each gave a bond in $500 for their appearance in case of indictment.

Latest Court Move For Mrs. Snyder

For Jury Trial the Day After Warden Scheduled Execution—Warden Proceeds For the Double Execution.

New York, Jan. 7 (P).—Speculation arose today as to whether the latest court move by counsel for Mrs. Ruth Snyder would result in a stay of her execution in event Governor Smith refuses clemency.

Edgar F. Hazleton, of her counsel, consented to argue a request for a jury trial of a suit over $97,000 insurance on Mrs. Snyder's murdered husband, next Friday, the day after her scheduled execution. The request for jury trial stressed the importance of Mrs. Snyder's presence at the trial. The suit would have no bearing on Henry Judd Gray, sentenced to die with her.

Hazleton denied that his action in permitting argument on the motion to go over to Friday, was in connection with his efforts to obtain clemency for his client, but others professed to see the move as a last minute possibility should Governor Smith rule against Hazleton's request for a thirty day stay, argued last Thursday in Albany.

Those who hold to the latter opinion declared if clemency was refused, Hazleton could then go before Supreme Court Justice Levy, who received the stipulation of postponement, and ask for a writ of habeas corpus ad testificandum. If such a writ, based on the contention that Mrs. Snyder's presence was necessary as a witness at the trial of the insurance suit, was granted, she would have to be brought from the death house at Sing Sing. However, it was pointed out, Justice Levy could order depositions taken in the death house, or refuse the writ entirely.

Another move, seen as a possibility for Hazleton, was an application to stay the execution until the matter could be cleared up. Search of Supreme court records, however, failed to show any case in which a court justice in the interests of a civil suit.

Warden Lawes, of Sing Sing prison, was proceeding today with preparations for the double execution. It will be as devoid of sensationalism as he can make it, he said. No telephone or telegraph wires for the use of the press will be installed in the prison. They will be in the village.

Twenty-four witnesses have been selected. These will include 20 newspaper men and four physicians. Three state attorneys will examine the condemned next Wednesday, the day before that scheduled for the executions.

Disorders Near Port of Corinto

Force of 150 U. S. Marines Available for Duty—Will Likely Be Posted at Strategic Points Along the Railway.

Managua, Nic., Jan. 7 (P).—There was another situation today for the marines to take in hand. Depredations and disorder near the port of Corinto raised the fear that railway communication between the Capital and the sea might be cut.

A force of 150 United States marines was available for duty in the region and it was considered likely that they would be posted at strategic points along the railway. This railway, the only one in Nicaragua, connects Managua and other points of the interior with the sea.

Sixty men, well armed and well mounted, attacked the laborers on a plantation at La Cabrera de Ameyra, advised from the district of Chinandega stated. The bandits plundered the district and committed various depredations.

Since Ameyra is directly across the bay of Estero from Corinto, it was feared that an attempt might be made to blow up the bridge connecting Corinto to the mainland, thus cutting off the seaport of Farris.

A strike of stevedores in Corinto has caused anxiety since approximately 65 per cent of the foreign commerce of Nicaragua passes through Corinto. The customs collector said that he believed the strike was in sympathy with the rebel activities of General Augustino Sandino. It is thought that the attack on the plantation was staged by sympathizers with the strikers.

Ellenville Raid Remains Mystery

No information in regard to the raid of an alleged still near Ellenville last Thursday has come to the attention of United States Commissioner Arthur C. Connelly although information given out at the Albany office stated the eight men would be arraigned before a commissioner at Kingston. Commissioner Connelly stated today that the men may have been arraigned before the commissioner at Middletown or New York, although it is customary to arraign defendants before the nearest United States Commissioner.

Recover Six More Bodies from S-4

Divers Find Bodies on Floor of Compartment Between the Engines—Expect to Find More Bodies in Same Compartment.

Provincetown, Mass., Jan. 7 (P).—Six more bodies of members of the crew of the sunken submarine S-4 were recovered by divers in the engine room today. This brought the number of bodies recovered to 13.

The six bodies were found lying two by two, on the floor of the compartment between the engines and only a short distance toward the stern from the point at which four bodies were recovered yesterday.

Six divers went down during the forenoon in groups of three. The first group recovered four bodies and the second found the other two, bringing them up shortly before noon.

Three other divers then were preparing to descend with the expectation of finding more bodies in the same compartment.

The bodies were transferred to the tender Bushnell pending the arrival later in the day of the destroyer Maury which will take them back to Boston for removal to the Chelsea naval hospital for identification.

The bodies of four men were found yesterday between the motors in positions which seemed to indicate that they had been huddled together under a tarpaulin which enshrouded two of them and which divers said probably had covered the other pair.

Their discovery in that position lead divers to express belief that they had been trying to keep warm when death overtook them, and it opened a possibility that the engine room victims may have lived for some time after the crash.

The only sounds ever reported to have come from the shattered hull were from the torpedo room where six men found survived the horror of their entombment.

No announcement of the identification of the four has yet been made from the Chelsea naval hospital where the bodies were taken aboard the destroyer Maury.

Neither has any information been available in the reports of examining surgeons into the cause of death. Salvage fleet to personnel has been divided over the way in which the men died, whether from drowning or from suffocation.

Fire Companies Seek Removal of Elect Officers Cohoes Aldermen Thames; 20 Drown In London Area

Warning Issued That a Repetition of Possible During the Next Few Days—Flood Due to Heavy Rain After a Christmas Snow.

London, Jan. 7 (P).—Overwhelmed with startling suddenness, twenty persons were killed and in the London area early today when the most devastating flood in the history of modern London swept the Thames river over its banks.

The Port of London Authority issued a warning this afternoon that a repetition of today's devastating Thames flood is possible during the next few days.

The tide will be of increasing height until Tuesday when the storm is forecast and flood conditions from Christmas snow prevail in the Thames valley, the danger to London continues.

The danger was past for today. When the tide began at 10:35 p. m. the river was a foot above normal. The next high tide is at 2:18 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The flood of water poured over the river banks at several places when an abnormal tide, whipped by a heavy rain, met flood waters pouring down from the interior early this morning. The rush of water was so sudden that hundreds of persons sleeping in basement rooms were driven from their beds, at least twenty being trapped and drowned with the possibility that there may still be further victims.

Crowds, undaunted by the catastrophe, gathered today along the embankment to see whether the devastating high tide would recur. Thrilling and tragic stories of narrow escapes were received from all the districts running from the Thames estuary to Teddington where the Thames lock system begins.

Four Sisters Perish. The most pathetic story was the drowning of four sisters named Harding. The sisters, aged 18, 16, 6 and 2, were the daughters of a workman whose eight children were trapped by the rush of waters. Harding heroically saved four of his children, but the others were drowned before he could reach them. Maddened with grief and temporarily out of his mind, he watched police and firemen take the bodies to the mortuary.

There was great distress among the poor and the lord mayor issued a statement that relief measures would be taken immediately.

Fearing a recurrence of disaster at the next flood tide, engineers labored frantically building temporary barricades where walls along the embankment collapsed early this morning.

Eleven bodies were recovered from districts where the river Thames burst its banks. Four persons, believed to have been in a flooded house, were missing. Extensive search of the poorer districts, it was feared, might show more victims.

The river swept over its banks for sixty miles from the sea and a night of alarm and tense excitement such as has been unknown for years resulted. The flood was due to heavy rain after a Christmas snow. Abnormally high tide and a gale made matters worse.

Wall along Victoria Holds. The granite wall along the Victoria embankment held against a terrific volume of water, preventing a more serious catastrophe in the center of the city. The water rose to the top of this wall which is four feet wide and runs for a mile and a half from the city proper to Westminster. At some points the water overflowed, but the wall itself held against the rush of the waters.

At one point beyond the Westminster, end of the embankment, another wall burst. The waters rushed through the gap, inundating the street. Two people were drowned there. The basements of many houses were flooded.

The electric conduits which operate the street cars were invaded by the waters and tramway service was stopped.

On the opposite bank of the river matters were much worse. There is no embankment and the streets were quickly flooded. Hundreds of dwellers of the poorer districts were routed. They fled in haste and terror from their beds, amid an uproar of shouts and cries of alarm.

Many public buildings were thrown open to shelter the sufferers. Police and others assisted in removing the stricken there and supplying them with food.

Lindbergh Off For Costa Rica. Managua, Nicaragua, Jan. 7 (P).—With an enthusiastic crowd assembled at the flying field this morning to see him a routine send-off, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh pointed the Spirit of St. Louis in the direction of Costa Rica, the sixth Central American republic on his tour of good will. He hoped off for San Jose, the Costa Rican capital at 11:30 a. m. (Central Standard Time).

The distance between the two capitals is about 210 miles, and his way lies over a chain of volcanoes and sparsely settled country.

On Fashions

Colorful Contrast a Strong Factor in Spring Ensembles

The Gray Sports Costume Finds Itself Accepted for Winter in Paris—Angora Jumpers Matched to Novelty Woolens Are Topped by Felt or Tweed Hats

Paris—Although the collections now on view at the grande maisons in Paris are intended for Riviera wear, equivalent to our southern costumes, one might think, in considering the sports collections, that they were all intended for St. Moritz. This is, of course, because of the character of materials used.

The wool sports dress still has precedence over crepe, and one cannot dissociate an angora from thoughts of warmth. When one angora garment is worn over another angora garment, what can one expect but that the wearer will be warmly as well as fashionably clad? When such is the case, it is reasonable to understand why designers have omitted one set of sleeves, and understand that they should omit those of the jacket, since not even a trace of the sleeveless day-time, to say nothing of sports, dress may be found.

The costume ensemble, as it may quite truthfully be termed, which has a jumper and skirt and a sleeveless hat in Paris, as well as in America.

A 40 inch size will require 2 1/2 yards of 40 inch material, together with 1/2 yard of contrasting material for panel and facing on collar and reversed portions of the fronts. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plaits extended is 52 inches.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Note. Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Fall and Winter 1927 Book of Fashions showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of ladies' misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle, (illustrating 20 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

REDEEMER LUTHERAN CHURCH SOCIETIES ELECT OFFICERS

Two of the ladies' societies of the Redeemer Lutheran Church held election of officers. The Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society elected the following officers: President, Miss Julia Walter; vice president, Mrs. E. Walsh; secretary, Mrs. E. Leudtke; treasurer, Mrs. E. Geschwinder. It was reported that the society sent Christmas baskets to a number of shut-ins.

The Sewing Circle elected as President, Mrs. John Hermann; vice president, Mrs. James Rowe; secretary, Mrs. E. Geschwinder; treasurer, Mrs. S. J. Messinger.

At the meeting of the Sunday School Association it was decided to resume the Cross and Crown system of rewards for regular Sunday school attendance, and new members will be started in about a week to run until Easter. The winning side will be the guests of the losers. A committee was appointed to investigate the subject of new hymn books for the Sunday school. The Sunday school will observe Foreign Mission Sunday on January 29, when the speaker at this service will be a missionary on furlough.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

(6c, 1927, Western Newspaper Union)

If the power of all has never been so manifest in the world before as it is today, the power of God has never been so apparent.

FOR THE LUNCH BASKET

A pretty sandwich for children is made from white and brown bread, called the kindergarten sandwich. Use a doughnut cutter for cutting the slices.

Stip a dark circle into the white slice and a white circle into the dark. Then spread with butter and cheese, filling if desired.

Never teach a child to like coffee by warming the milk with it, or with tea.

When a child refuses to drink his milk give it a straw to drink through, serving the milk in a pretty cup or mug.

The natural craving every child has for sweets should be satisfied with pure sugar in some form. Bread and butter spread with sugar is good; a little scraped maple cream or a bit of homemade candy given after a meal is not harmful. Pure milk, they chopped, mixed with a little cream, makes a most dainty sandwich filling.

Fruit should never be omitted from the lunch basket, as it is one of the most indispensable foods in a well balanced diet. The golden benefit of a lunch is a most important means of keeping children well and happy. Paper napkins are so inexpensive that one should keep a supply on hand to use in filling the basket and for napkins.

A little surprise to vary the meal is always pleasing to a child. A piece of candy, a date or a hidden away in a corner will always delight them.

Fruit Sandwiches—Take bananas in their skins, peel and sprinkle with lemon juice and sugar and wash, then spread on thinly buttered bread, add a little grated pineapple and put two slices together.

Rye Ham Sandwiches—Chop fine some cold boiled ham and crisp pickles, using one-fourth as much pickle as ham. Mix with mayonnaise dressing and spread on rye bread.

Raisin Sandwiches—Chop equal amounts of seedless raisins and walnut meats and add tart jelly to mix. Spread on buttered bread and serve with hot cocoa.

Local High Quintet Loses First Game
of Season at Bridge City—Regularly Removed in Third Quarter.

Poughkeepsie High School defeated Kingston High School Friday 21-19 in the down-river city. The big season for the winners came in the fourth quarter when they topped Kingston's score after trailing the locals throughout the contest. The third quarter saw three of Kingston's regulars removed owing to personal fouls
and the session during which the reserves played proved opportune scoring time for the Bridge City quintet.

The referee called 18 fouls on Kingston while the Poughkeepsie boys committed eight. Molyneux was the major point getter for Kingston with nine markers while Rosenthal of Poughkeepsie led for his team with eight points. Poughkeepsie is the leader of the DUSO League.

Few Changes in Cardinal Lineup

St. Louis, Jan. 7 (AP).—Cardinal manager prospects depend largely on the ability of players who were injured or suffered a slump last season to return to the form which took them to a world's championship in 1926.

With exception of Rogers Hornsby, traded to the Giants, and Billy Southworth, sent to Manager Syracuse, virtually all the championship team will report to training camp
this spring.

The only trade this winter was one which sent Pitcher Jimmy Ring and Catcher Johnny Schulte to the Phils to return for Shortstop Jimmy Gooney, Outfielder John Moman and Catcher Clarence Joannard.

Manager Bill McKechnie will have a trustworthy pitching staff headed by Grover Cleveland Alexander, hero of the 1926 series, Jesse Haines and Fred Frankhouse, who won six games in seven starts last fall. Phil Rhee-man, Arthur Hebert, Tony Kaufman, Carlisle Littlejohn and Herman Bell,
if they hope to remain the strike which made him one of the regular starters two seasons ago.

Bob O'Farrell, relieved of his managerial work and rapidly recovering from his thumb injury, will go behind the bat regularly. He was given the league's "most valuable player" award year before last. He will be assisted by Frank Gibson, a veteran purchased from the Braves,
and Virgil Davis, a youngster drafted from Buffalo. Joannard has been shipped to Houston.

beginning the second half No. 2 staged a scoring rampage, adding eight points, making the score 10-11 in favor of No. 3. The game was nip

Loughran Wins Fierce Fight

Light-heavy Champion Mike Tom-laski Ties in First Round—Lough-ran Wins in the Clinch.

New York, Jan. 7 (AP).—Tommy Loughran continued to hold sway
over the light-heavyweight division
today but only after a fierce struggle in which Challenger Leo Lomski at one time had the pride of Philadelphia flat on his back.

Two battering fists, packed with dynamite, knocked Loughran down twice for the count of nine in the first round of a 15 round title en-agement in Madison Square Garden
last night while a packed patronage of 15,000 enthusiasts roared at the prospective crowning of a new champion.

But a courageous heart and ring
mastery served the Philadelphia man, tiding him over the bad start and eventually enabling him to wear Lomski down in ten of the remaining rounds to take the decision and retain the title.

As Loughran said afterwards, it was the most vicious battle of his career and he had to call upon all the science of his trade to pull him through. The knockdowns were the first scored against Loughran since he was floored by Gene Tunney in a bout at Philadelphia some five years ago.

Lomski, a Polish scrapper from Aberdeen, Wash., waged a furious combat, firing somewhat in the closing stanzas. Loughran ripped a solid right to Lomski's head in the eighth round which opened a cut under Leo's left eye. The wound bled freely and slowed up the chal-lenger's attack.

Loughran, who won the light-heavyweight title by whipping the venerable Mike McTigue last fall, successfully defended the standard
against Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo, N. Y., about a month ago.

The titleholder declares he is willing to accept all challenges and that after he has disposed of all opponents in his division he plans to battle Gene Tunney for the heavyweight championship.

CONGREGATIONALS WON FROM PRESBYTERIANS 22-22

The Congregationalists defeated the Presbyterians 22-22 in the Senior Sunday School League games at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night. As the score indicates the contest was a hotly-contested one in which the final whistle proved a big factor.

The Presbyterians were in arrears at the end of the first frame 23-21 and started the second half with much vigor. The quintets were tied when a foul shot before the terminating victoria awarded the game to the Congregationalists. Krum of the winners was the high scorer of the contest with 19 points to his credit.
